

The 18th Annual Curriculum and Pedagogy Conference
October 18 - 19, 2017
Bourbon Orleans Hotel, New Orleans, Louisiana

Welcome to New Orleans and the Curriculum and Pedagogy Group's annual conference!

The Curriculum and Pedagogy Conference is an annual gathering for individuals seeking academic enrichment and professional engagement with others who are likewise committed to educational empowerment and social change. The conference opens spaces to advance the ideals of progressive curriculum and democratic leadership in education through dialogue and action. The conference organizers seek to bring together individuals from various backgrounds that hope to analyze, interrogate, and develop theories and practices for educational change and social justice. We welcome academic workers, graduate students, school and district administrators, EC-16 teachers, and cultural and educational workers from community groups and organizations.

The conference fosters an open and affirming environment for democratic community building, collective scholarship, and social action. We gather together to deepen our critical insights into the historical, political, personal, aesthetic, spiritual, social, and cultural contexts of our work. We accomplish this work within a perspective that regards curriculum studies as integral to the fabric of everyday public life and wholly connected to the daily pedagogical practices of/within/about schools, as well in educational phenomena that exist in anomalous, extra-institutional, and diverse spaces and moments.

We hope you find valuable and insightful sessions among our workshops, symposiums, book talks, and conversation tables on this Wednesday and Thursday.

We will meet daily to break bread with lunch and a Town Hall. Town Halls provide a collective time for the attendees to address power, privilege, and supremacy in our work and organization as well as conduct organizational business.

We currently provide three venues to support our Mission: Curriculum and Pedagogy Annual Conference; Journal of Curriculum Pedagogy; and Curriculum and Pedagogy Edited Books (All Peer Reviewed).

Please take advantage of the opportunities this conference provides by engaging in sessions, by contributing in Town Halls, and by dialoguing with colleagues in sessions, over a meal, or in a comfy chair in the corner.

The volunteers who keep the organization, its publications, and this conference running are dependent on you to make this conference a success. If you have any questions about the conference or the organization, do not hesitate to ask a question of a council member.

Meet new people, exchange ideas, and enjoy your time in New Orleans! Thank you for joining us!

Sincerely,

*Governing Council Chair: Jim Kilbane
Governing Council Chair-Elect: Miryam Espinosa Dulanto
Program Co-Chairs: Samuel J. Tanner & Deb Freedman
Site Coordinator: Jeffrey King
Registrar: Rupert Hollister*

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The Curriculum and Pedagogy Council and Members would like to thank the following for their commitment to supporting our Conference:

- Susan Mack and Megan Emboulas from the Bourbon Orleans for their assistance with the conference logistics.
- The Bourbon Orleans staff who, in our four years with them have readily, and with grace, met all our needs.
- Mark Stewart, our web designer, for keeping the conference pages updated.

MEMBERSHIP & GOVERNANCE

Curriculum Pedagogy is committed to democratic, transparent governance. Council members, who may be full-time practitioners, college professors and/or graduate students, serve three-year terms. The Council is elected by the membership at the annual conference. The Council establishes procedures and guidelines for conducting its business consistent with the philosophy of the organization. Any policy and procedure is subject to review and revision, however, by the membership at the Annual Meeting. As an elected body of the whole, Council is the sole and final decision-making body of this organization.

Elections

Every year we hold Council Elections to elect 6 new members who will replace those rotating off the Governing Council. All C&P members are encouraged to consider nominating themselves or others. Council members participate in the over-all governance and share the workload of the Curriculum & Pedagogy Group. Council seats extend for three calendar years, beginning January 1 following election to the Council. Council members are expected to attend the annual conference each year. Additionally, Council meets twice in person during the Annual Conference and converses virtually throughout the year. This year, nominations were accepted electronically (via email). Election will be held at the Conference and results will be announced at the Town Hall meeting on October 19, 2017.

THE JOURNAL OF CURRICULUM AND PEDAGOGY

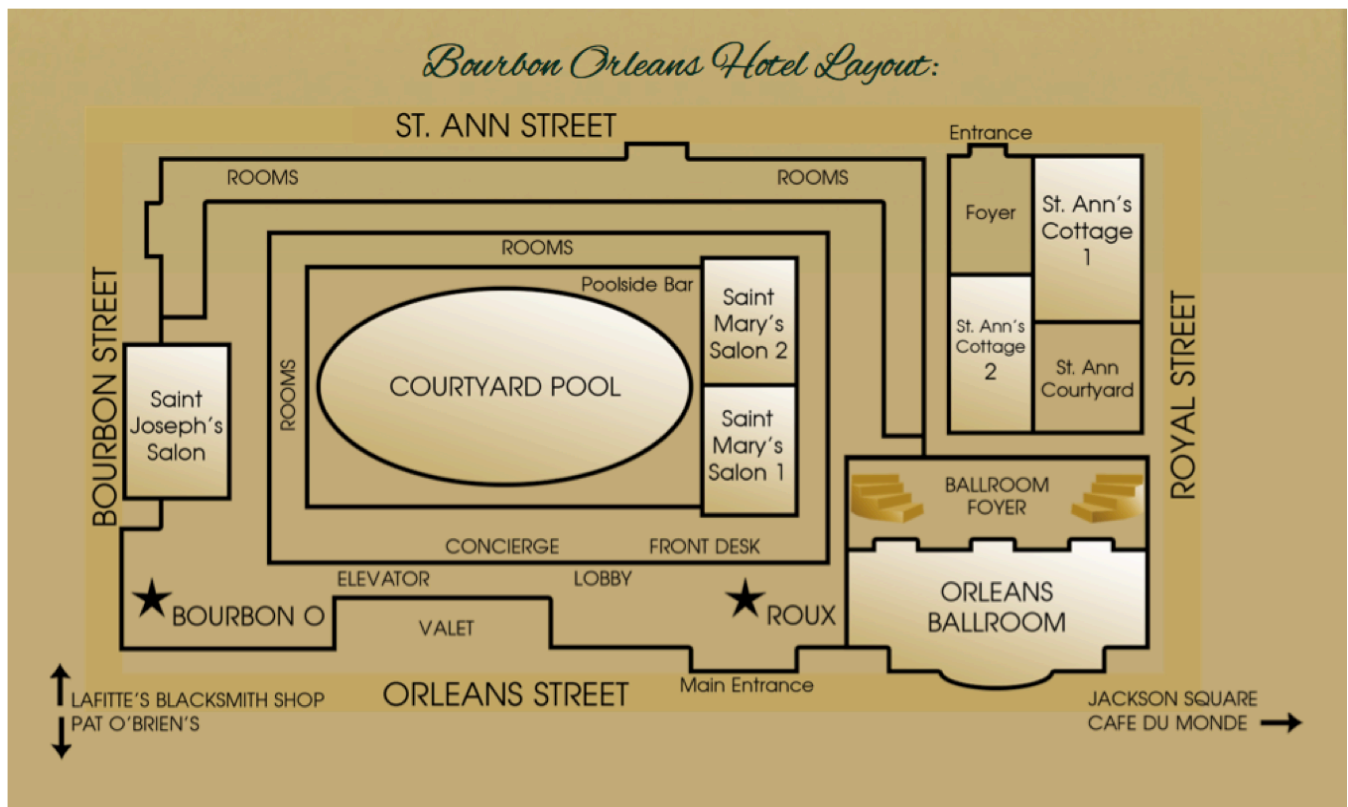

The Journal of Curriculum and Pedagogy is the official journal of the Curriculum and Pedagogy Group, published by Taylor & Francis. This leading international publication brings together the work of scholars from a variety of disciplines as a means to expand perspectives on educational phenomena, from schools and cultural institutions to sites and concerns beyond school and institutional boundaries. JCP seeks to publish work arising from the theorization and study of curriculum theory, educational inquiry, and pedagogical praxis. The journal publishes articles that explore historical, philosophical, gendered, sexual, racial, ethnic, linguistic, autobiographical, aesthetic, theological, and/or international curriculum concerns and issues. The journal also features an arts-based educational research section and a guest-edited Perspectives section about topical issues curated by leading scholars. As a participant in C & P's annual conference, we encourage you to submit your innovative work to JCP for consideration. Please don't hesitate to get in contact with us if you have questions or would like to discuss an idea for a submission.

UNIQUE CONFERENCE FEATURES

Town Hall Meetings are a deliberative space of the whole. We use this space to discuss both the needs of the organization to keep it viable and ways to expand our work. As part of your registration for this conference, you officially become a member. We invite all members to attend these meetings and engage in open and participatory dialogue related to the over-all vision and governance of C&P. On Thursday your Town Hall will introduce business items of the Curriculum and Pedagogy Group as well as introducing those running for Council. On Friday, the Town Hall will be a panel discussion on the influence and role of curriculum studies in educational and institutional leadership.

CONFERENCE SESSION INFORMATION

All presentations offer outstanding spaces for informal and conversational exchange. Every attempt has been made to group a variety of scholars together – faculty, graduate students and school practitioners – with related papers, presentations and performances. We hope you'll find this enriching to your presentation and conference experience. Presenters are asked to consult with one another at the start of each session to determine order of presentations, amount of time to allocate to each author and the format for follow-up discussion or Q & A. All papers and performances should be allotted equitable time for presentation and additional minutes for questions and discussion, depending on how many papers are scheduled for that session. Ordinarily, we assume that the first paper listed in the session will be presented first, although presenters may alter this arrangement if they choose.
